This will bring you around to the back of the Field House and the Morse Center. The back entrance is actually the best access for the performance theatre.

From the West: Take U.S. Route 2 into St. Johnsbury. This becomes Western Avenue and goes by the Fairbanks Motor Inn on the right. Just before the road bears sharply to the left and you see the white Congregational Church, go straight instead. Turn right, and Fuller Hall will be the large brick building with the white columns on the left. For the Morse Center, take the next right (across from Fuller Hall) and follow the signs for parking. This will bring you around to the back of the Field House and the Morse Center. The back entrance is actually the best access for the performance theatre.

From the East: If on I-93, go to the very end of the route, and bear right onto I-91 north. Stay in the right hand lane and take exit 20. Then follow the directions at the top of this page.

If on U.S. Route 2, turn left at the junction with Vt. Route 18 ("Pettyco Junction" store will be on your left. Go up the hill and bear right onto I-93.
